COVER - Southwest view from the Coast Guard station looking toward Orleans, Eastham, Nauset marsh extends some 3 miles south protected from the open sea by a barrier beach. The inlet to this marsh is at the southern tip of the beach. For those who find in Cape Cod an area of spectacular beauty and change, the best source of entertainment and information is the book, "The House on Nauset Marsh", published in 1955, by author Dr. Wyman Richardson, a Boston physician who taught at the Harvard Medical School. Richardson wrote about his experiences as he stayed at an old farmhouse directly to the east of the salt pond on a rise overlooking the marsh. Dr. Richardson's account of adventure on the marsh waters and shore of the protecting beach are so rich in detail and ring so true that through his eyes a half day's fishing excursion takes on the drama of great discovery. Those who have spent some happy hours on Cape Cod will find all the magic of its nature unfold as they look at the area through the eyes of the author. How fortunate we are and generations to come that this magic will be forever there for rediscovery.

The marsh, at Nauset, is part of the United States National Seashore and will be left in its natural state. The salt pond can be seen from Route 6 in Eastham and is just below the park pavilion. From this information center a walking trail follows the shore line around the pond and to the Coast Guard Station about 2¼ miles away overlooking the sea. A second walking trail follows the ridge above and features braille stations that explain the outlook and lets the blind touch the fauna with an explanation of the type of foliage which is being felt. A third trail is for biking to the Coast Guard Station and to Nauset Beach. The area is so magnetic that even on the chill days of early Spring the walkers and bikers are active there. Thanks to the loan of "The House on Nauset Marsh" by neighbor Robert Bennett, I see this whole panorama through the eyes of master storyteller Wyman Richardson and his view of the special atmosphere that is old Cape Cod. Dr. Richardson died in 1953 but his words spring this whole area to life for the sighted just as the braille stations enable the blind to feel and breathe the essence of Nauset.

Haskell told Selectmen he has been asking for three years for $12,000 to repair Long Wharf - so far "I haven't got it. If something isn't done this year, we're in trouble, as we will have to start replacing the pilings", explained Haskell.

In presenting his budget, the Harbormaster said the 40-year old float needed painting and new flotation. He suggested perhaps styrofoam could be used.

Selectman James F. Huntoon commented, "a good coastal storm and we're going to catch hell". He told Haskell "the board is here to support you."

Huntoon asked Haskell if he could seek the expertise of Brownell Boatyard to help with the float repair. Haskell said he hesitated to ask Brownell, saying, "If they had the manpower they (Brownell) would do what they could for the town. But I don't think they have the time."

Selectman Frank M. Suzan emphasized that the wharves are the number one asset of the town, and we need to keep them in good condition.

The $20,000 voted at last year's annual town meeting has to be spent before July 1 of this year. Selectmen Chairman John N. DeCosta explained that this sum will be used for capping the edge of the east wharf and for digging a trench to install a new wiring system.

DeCosta added that another $20,000 will be sought at this year's annual town meeting. If voted, the funds will be used to blacktop the wharf area. The chairman commented that budgets have had to be cut every year, and that this year will be no exception.

Fire Chief Donald C. Wood presented a proposed budget of $41,600 - $29,500 for salaries and $13,100 for expenses. A small increase of $2,500 for salaries and $1,585 for expenses is reflected in Wood's request.

Chief Wood expressed disappointment in being unable to interest persons in becoming volunteer firefighters. He termed the department's status as a "family affair" -- sons of fathers who now are or have been in the department are now joining us.

The Chief said, "Everyone's out there busting their butts earning a living. People just aren't as interested in being a fireman as they used to be." He added, "I'm not knocking on doors looking for them; they can come and see me."

Included in the fire department's budget is a request for $800 to paint the firehouse, said the Chief. Also, he said he would like to buy more air bottles. "We have some, but I'd like more as a back-up rather than having to go to New Bedford for them", Wood explained.

Paul M. Kelley, Jr., fire alarm superintendent, presented a proposed budget of $4,483.56 -- this has remained the same for the past three years.

Kelley was complimented by Selectmen on keeping a tight budget. Kelley attributed his ability to retain the same budget request to "cooperation".

The Superintendent especially wanted to thank the American Cable Company for their cooperation saying "they are fantastic and very helpful". He noted the cable company has permitted him to use its bucket truck for about 84 hours.

Selectmen will send a letter of thanks to American Cable Company for its "community spirit".

NOTED that the Mattapoisett River Valley Water Supply Protection Advisory Committee recommends a form be filled out when development is proposed within the boundaries of the watershed area.

Jeffrey Osuch, chairman of the advisory committee, wrote that 30 days before any action is taken by the Planning Board this form should be submitted to the committee.

Selectman Suzan noted the committee has no specific control, but it is just an advisory committee. Its aim is to preserve the water supply at its presently high quality level.

The Phoenix Choir will present a variety of selections by such composers as Brahms, Reichert, Whitecotton and Adler. Director of the Phoenix Choir is Dr. Maxine Asselin, a member of the faculty at Bridgewater State College. Accompanying the choir is Judy Dautel of South Dartmouth.

Tickets ($3.50 - adults, $2.00 students) are available at the Seaport Pharmacy in Mattapoisett, the Bookstall in Marion, the Jug Shop in Wareham, from chorus members and at the door the day of the concert.

ORR Music Kudos

Congratulations go out to Charles Jefferson, Charles Tate, and Jarrett Drake for being selected to perform at the Southeast Music Festival on March 3rd in Pembroke, Massachusetts. These students who represent the towns of Rochester, Mattapoisett and Marion respectively, auditioned on their instruments along with over one thousand students from more than sixty communities including Boston, Fall River and New Bedford.

Old Rochester has placed more students in festival competitions during the last two years than in previous years because of the renewed enthusiasm and overall support of the music program under the direction of George Murphy. Charles Jefferson and Charles Tate also study privately with Mr. Murphy.

Come to see and hear some of these fine musicians at work and enjoy the music they perform at any of the following events:

F.O.R.M. Scholarship Concert - March 22, High School Auditorium.

M.I.C.A. Festival - April 7 (Junior High) and April 8 (High School), Framingham, MA.

Spring Pops Concert - May 9 - Junior High Cafetorium.

Birds of Prey

WILDLIFE LECTURE

On Friday, March 23rd, Mr. Dick Lucius, a Master Falconer, will present his wildlife lecture to the children at Center and Old Hammondtown Schools. Mr. Lucius' program centers around a display of five live North American raptors. The largest of his birds is a 13 pound golden eagle, held under a special educational permit from the United States Fish and Wildlife Service. In addition to his live birds of prey, Dick's program includes examples of equipment used in the ancient sport of falconry. He also displays several one-of-a-kind reproductions of American Indian artifacts. Indians greatly admired the birds of prey, and often used Thursday found the Brownies from Troop 3 at the Mattapoisett Nursing Home where they distributed candy cups for the residents' St. Patrick Day trays. The girls had spent a whole meeting making and filling these cups. Junior Troop 29 was also very busy on Thursday. They gave the library story hour for the kindergarten through second graders. The girls spent several weeks choosing songs, stories, and a craft for the children. It was a busy week, but one I'm sure that all the girls have a very good feeling about.

Tails and Trails (RAIN DATE - MARCH 31st)

4H NEWS

The Mattapoisett Tails & Trails 4H Club has been keeping very busy in the last few months. Many of the members have competed in the county judging tours and are holding top scores in the county.

The junior leaders organized and put up a window exhibit at Old Hammondtown School in Mattapoisett. The window exhibit won a first place ribbon. Many thanks to all who worked on it, especially to Gerri Sheets for her art work.

Many of the members of the club will be going to Whitman on March 17th to give oral demonstrations on the county level. Good luck!

FIELD DAY TO BE HELD!

There will be a field day on Sunday, March 25th, at Ashland Stables, 152 North Street, Mattapoisett. Many of the 4H members will be competing at this mini-show to prepare for the show season, which is coming very quickly. All spectators are welcome to come and watch our local 4-H members polish up their acts. Hope to see you there supporting our local club. The field day begins at 11:30 a.m. and will end at approximately 2:00 p.m.

ORR Math Team

The ORR Math Team, competing in the New England Mathematics League, remains in second place to Hingham High School in Plymouth County. ORR leads other area schools such as: West Bridgewater, Scituate, Marshfield, Hull, Brockton, Falmouth, Harwich, Nauset, Attleboro, Bishop Feehan, Coyle Cassidy, Mansfield, North Attleboro, Norton, Nantucket and Oliver Ames. Leading ORR in meet number 4 were: Jeff Starecheski, Mike Burnett, Carmen Gracia, Laurie Watjen and Sue Herman.

Overall, ORR ranks in the top 30 percent throughout New England with a total of 226 schools competing.

ORR Chess

CHESS TEAM LEAGUE CHAMPIONS

The ORR Chess Team completed its play in the Southeastern Massachusetts Conference Chess League by crushing an outclassed Bishop Stang team by a score of 4-1 in the second match of the League playoffs and thus winning the League championship for the second straight year. Winning for ORR were: Aaron Sylvia (Captain), Jeff Starechecki, Bill Smirnov and Erik Sylvia.

This was the second year that ORR has gone undefeated during regular season play and according to Mr. Cameron, chess advisor, the team has an excellent chance to do the same next year since we're not losing anyone to graduation.

The next competition for ORR will be the 5-player State Scholastic Team Championships to be held in Westwood on March 25th.

BANTAM B'S - CHAMPIONS

Rochester Youth Hockey's first year mites and clinic skaters defeated Hetland 8-1 in a scrimmage game played a few weeks ago. Goal scorers for Rochester included Chris Rego (3), Kirk Haymaker (2), Joseph Aleardi (2), and Tim Leverone (1). Assists were registered by Tim Leverone, Paul Chamberlain, Kirk Haymaker, Todd Bodeau, Jeff Allain, and Brian Berriault. Kevin Allain was in the goal.

Cape League championships were played the week of March 12th for 4 Rochester Youth Hockey teams. The championships are 1 game elimination tournaments, and the following are the results:

The mite team, sponsored by Hair Biz, played their first game of the playoffs on March 12th against Kennedy. Despite a good defensive effort by Rochester, Kennedy's winning goal was scored in the last minute of regulation play with Kennedy defeating Rochester 2-1. Rochester's goal was scored by Justin Swain, with an assist going to Jon Ruel. Jeff Allain was in the net.

The squirt team, sponsored by RAC Services, played their first game against Canal on March 12th. The squirts were defeated 5-0.

The bantam B's, sponsored by Marble Hardware, ended their season in second place behind Kennedy. The B's were hampered most of the season because 3 of their first line players were involved in high school hockey, which conflicted with the B's games and practices. Therefore, some of the bantam C teams' players were called up to fill in the gaps, and they did a fine job in helping the B's out. It wasn't until the middle of February that the B's became a complete team again, and it didn't take long for the B's to become a force to be reckoned with.

In their first playoff game on March 15th, the B's played their best game of the season defeating Canal by a score of 7-3. Early in the first period Rochester had scored 2 quick goals to lead 2-0. The first goal was scored by Chris Danse, with an assist going to Art Parks. The second goal was scored by Chris Smith, assisted by Scott Hanigan. With the team gaining confidence as each minute passed, Rochester continued to add to their score, and despite Canal scoring 3 goals, Rochester's fate was never really in doubt. Other goals for the B's were scored by Art Parks with 2, and Sean Brice, Scott Guinen, and Scott Hanigan with 1 goal each. Assists were registered by Scott Guinen (3), Sean Brice (2), and Art Parks. The goalie, Tim Bronk, played another outstanding game in the net, and may have won the honor of the lowest goals against in the Cape League (1.26).

On Saturday, March 17th, the B's played first place Kennedy for the championship. Both teams were very tentative when the game started, and for the first 29 minutes of the game the only goal was scored by Kennedy. With 1 minute left in regulation time, Sean Brice scored a goal, with Art Parks and Scott Guinen assisting. This goal tied the game, and Kennedy was unable to score in the last minute of regulation time. Four minutes into overtime Scott Guinen scored the winning goal with Donovan Dunn assisting to give the championship to Rochester. Tim Bronk stopped many shots and kept Rochester in the game. Congratulations to each member of the B team for a job well done. Their names are as follows: Tim Bronk, Chris Danse, Sean Brice, Scott Guinen, Art Parks, John Mavilia, Scott Hanigan, Chris Taft, Chris Smith, Paul Sanford, and Ricky Oliveira.

The bantam C's, sponsored by American Flexible, ended their regular season in first place in their division, with their playoff game being held on March 13th against Canal Orange. Despite a well-played game by the C's, Canal defeated Rochester 4-2. Goals for Rochester were scored by Tom Dias and Dean Frates. Dean never gives anything less than 100% any time he is on the ice.

Rochester Youth Hockey appreciates all the time and effort that is spent by sponsors, board members, coaches, parents, and especially all of our skaters to make our program as successful and rewarding as it is today. We, as an organization, could not survive without all of these people, and we hope they, as well as others, will continue to support us in the future. WE ARE PROUD

The Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) and the Achievement Tests (ACHO will be administered on the following dates: November 3, 1984 (SAT and ACH); December 1, 1984 (SAT and ACH); January 26, 1985 (SAT and ACH); March 23, 1985 (SAT only); May 4, 1985 (SAT and ACH); June 1, 1985 (SAT and ACH).

Sunday administrations will be established following each Saturday date. In most cases this date will be the Sunday immediately following the scheduled Saturday date.

The Advanced Placement Examinations (AP) will be administered on the following dates: May 6-10, 1985; May 13-17, 1985.

Juniors and their parents should take this schedule into consideration when planning fall activities; the PSAT is normally recommended for all students who plan to attend college and/or who wish to be considered for a National Merit Scholarship program. All persons planning community activities in which students may be involved are asked to consider these testing dates which normally occupy the students until about noon. Consideration should be given to avoiding the planning of activities on the evening preceding such examinations.

Lloyd Center

EVENING WALK THIS SUNDAY

The upcoming weekly walk at the Lloyd Center for Environmental Studies, 430 Potomska Road, South Dartmouth, will be held on Sunday, March 25th, at 7:00 p.m. During this evening walk we will focus attention on those nocturnal inhabitants of the Center's 55-acre property which signal the return of Spring to our region.

Spotted Salamanders (Ambystoma maculatum), an elusive creature who may be threatened by the effects of acid precipitation, will deposit fist-sized and larger egg masses in shallow wooded wetlands. Wood frogs (Rana sylvatica) and Spring Peepers (Hyla crucifer) lend their voices to the chorus in the Center's kettlehole, a small round pond of glacial origin.

In addition, this walk will address the changes and limitations of our sense of sight during night-walking, and note other adjustments necessary for outdoor exploration after sunset.

Weekly walks at the Lloyd Center are open to the public and are free of charge. Group size is limited, so please call the Center at 990-0505 to register for this walk.

The Lloyd Center grounds and four walking trails are open to the public 365 days a week, from dawn to dusk. The Center's 55-acre property borders the Slocum River estuary, and presents a panoramic view of

Tobey Hospital

TOBEY HOSPITAL TO RETAIN OBSTETRICS

Mr. Ian Baldwin, President of Tobey Hospital, and Charles S. Kinney, Administrator, announced last week the decision of the Corporation to continue to provide Obstetrical Services at the facility.

The Obstetricians currently associated with Tobey Hospital have recently chosen to consolidate their obstetrical practice with their Falmouth Office, effective May 15, 1984, thereby admitting only gynecological patients to Tobey. The hospital was then faced with the option of recruiting new obstetricians or discontinuing the services provided in Obstetrics. The decision came about after careful study of the Community's need for the service and the feasability of Tobey continuing to provide that service.

The hospital undertook an immediate survey of the area, seeking input from mothers who have delivered babies in the past two years. One question asked in the survey, would they return to Tobey if the service was retained, prompted an overwhelming positive response.

Many calls and letters were also received by the hospital administrator expressing the desire to maintain the service. Baldwin and Kinney stated, "A search committee already in place will double its efforts to provide replacements for the three physicians as soon as possible." It is hoped no interruption of the service will result; however, any interim period during the search for physicians will be utilized to refurbish the Maternity section to improve upon patient comfort. The hospital will also provide a "birthing room" in the immediate future.

With a new group of physicians and changes in the physical plant, the Trustees are determined to have the obstetrical patient volume increase to an average of 400 per year compared to the present volume.

Tobey Hospital has maintained a Maternity Wing since it opened the doors in 1940. An average of 250 births a year has been the experience of the department, according to Kinney, who further stated, "The hospital will improve on the service. We have justification to retain our Obstetrical Service and with that perspective we will continue to provide quality care to our patients and newborns."

Tobey Basketball

TOBEY MEDICS VS. WAREHAM POLICE/FIRE DEPTS.

The Wareham Police and Fire Departments defeated the Tobey Medics 62-53 in a benefit basketball game held at the Wareham High School Gym on March 8th.

The Police put their decided height advantage to good use as they jumped out to an early lead and led for the remainder of the game. The Medics trailed by as many as 21 points in the third quarter, but a hustling Tobey defense forced many turnovers which helped them cut the lead to 6 points midway through the final quarter. But, once again the Police went to work rebounding and fast-breaking to withstand the Tobey rally.

The Medics were led by Paul Cardoza's 16 points as he played a strong game battling the larger Police rebounders. Dr. Greg Johnson played an aggressive game on both ends of the floor and chipped in 12 points in the losing effort. The Police were paced by Glen Gifford's 26 points.

Letter to The Editor

Prayer in our public schools is again in the focus of public attention. This has been brought about by secular humanists persuading a liberal Supreme Court that such prayer constitutes a threat to the separation of church and state, and is therefore illegal. It is ridiculous that we have to go about the slow, long drawnout process of passing a constitutional amendment in order to do in our public schools what has been done for a hundred and seventy-five years; it is obvious that our Founding Fathers at Philadelphia in 1787 had no intention of banning prayer in any aspect of our national life; numerous polls of the American people make it also obvious that eighty percent of our citizens want prayer in our schools. But if we must go the amendment route let's get on with the program!

The former great Boston Post editorial and sports writer, Bill Cunningham, repeatedly reminded us "That This Nation Came a Long Way on Hickory and Prayer!" And now we have been made to abandon, both, in our public schools and we are reaping the consequences.

After forty-five years' experience in our public schools, I am convinced that our pupils believe that everything of real importance is included in their curriculum; anything left out is of little import.

Home prayer and school prayer used to reinforce each other, but now we have little or none at either base. It is useless to say that prayer should be practiced at home, and refrained from at school; it is well-known that the average American home has succumbed to the blandishments of secular society; family prayer is no longer the norm.

We are told in the Bible to "Pray without ceasing". The Humanists are now telling us to "Cease Praying", at least in our public schools!

What a contrast! No prayer must be uttered, not even that which our Lord gave the world. It might endanger the separation of church and state. (If that isn't an example of "Straining at gnats!").

In 1787 Benjamin Franklin told his countrymen many things, including the following--"Except the Lord build the House, they labor in vain that build it." And I don't believe that Franklin had any intention of excluding the School House from the wisdom of his thought!

The snow date will be April 1st.

Saints and Singers

The Reverends Crotty and Lesnek of St. Joseph's Church in Fairhaven are sponsoring an ecumenical Easter Musicale on April 13th, Friday, at 8:00 p.m. St. Joseph's Church is on the corner of Spring and Adams Streets in Fairhaven. THE SAINTS & SINGERS CHORUS, INC., an Upper Cape mixed chorus, will present Ralph Carmichael's "Easter Celebration", a Cantata of contemporary and traditional Easter music. The Easter story, told through narration and musical selections, carries the listener from Christ's triumphant entry into Jerusalem through the suffering to His joyful resurrection.

Everyone is invited to the church hall to enjoy the reception and refreshments which follow the program. There will be a free-will offering taken at the program.

Baldwin Blossoms at SMU

by George W. Hayden, Visiting Lecturer

North Dartmouth: With wondrous round, popping, kindly eyes, James Baldwin, novelist, playwright and essayist, arrived from Greene Airport at a classroom in Building I at S.M.U. shortly after 4 p.m. on Thursday, March 8th. When he entered the room a few rocognized him and with applause stood to greet this Lion of the Literary World, this prophet of human comprehension. Introduced by sociologist Dr. John Bush in a clear and academically professional manner, Mr. Baldwin placed himself most informally among the anticipating audience, a mixture of students and a few professors.

Without benefit of microphone his sonorous tones would sometimes evaporate into sound and with gentlemanliness he'd ask "can you hear me?" When has a creative artist been so generous and truthful in sharing their insights, motivations and stimulations to write, particularly his novels, with their listeners? Mr. Baldwin brought us right into the studio of his life, mind and our times. He told of his submerging himself into a character, group of characters he was creating for a while, so much as to distance himself from friends and family while the senior at Bridgewater High School, will perform at the all-State band; Richard Kelley, a sophomore at Boston Latin School, performs on several instruments and will also perform at the all-State band; he plays trumpet with the quintet; John Manning, Tuba, attends Boston University for the Arts, where he is a freshman; he is a member of the Greater Boston Youth Symphony Orchestra; Jon Nelson, trumpet, is a senior at the Middleboro High School and has studied with the Empire Brass Quintet at Tanglewood; the newest member, Matt Guilford, is a student at Boston University School of Music and will audition in April for the Boston Symphony Orchestra. The Capitol Brass Quintet has been coached by Norman Bolter of the Boston Symphony Orchestra. The group is planning to tour Holland this year.

creative process was going on. And with the literary work completed, he would find elation from his exhaustive thinking, writing and rejoice when he'd rejoin friends and family bursting with spirit and some undetermined sense of completion.

Many of the students' questions were of a "How do you?" and a "How to?" type. Again Mr. Baldwin's responses were so honest both when he was able to answer and also when he went into the darker areas of uncertainty.

Mr. Baldwin mentioned that novelist John Updike's work did not particularly stir his imaginative impulses, but did not reject him as a stylist; whereas although the late Tennessee Williams was aloof, he liked the man.

His evening lecture delivered to an almost full S.M.U. Main Auditorium after introduction by President William Wild and Professor/Poet Everett Hoagland was total social and political fire. Reading into the history of a Papal Bull and the creation of the artificial economic subjugation thereafter, Mr. Baldwin told us that racism was not always with us, but after its introduction the extrication from its deathly yoke has been the black people's struggle for the right to survive. He said that Black People came to this country as a result of the sugar-rum trade in chains and against their will.

His reminiscences of the store front churches in Harlem, the atmosphere filled with religion and faith was that in which he was raised by his parents with his five sisters. A tear of recollection could be noticed in his beautiful and expressive eyes as he read from his early novel, Go Tell It on the Mountain.

His politics are those of liberation as he spoke of cardboard leadership and the Falkland incident as one in a series of world events which follows course to the end of imperialism, that kind of nationalism evoked through the voice of "Maggie Thatcher" by an empire on which the sun once never set. He was uncertain as to whether the Japanese could ever forgive the bombings of the cities. When questioned why he was so bitter, with tact he replied if he were bitter it is because of the dehumanization of people. Mr. Baldwin is not a bitter person. His sensitivity and brilliance places him living among such greats as Thomas Mann and Walt Whitman. He breathes and looks directly into our faces. He helps us to free our spirits.

Through the network I heard that microphones were also not working at the Baldwin Bridgewater State lecture. James Baldwin cautiously told a responsive audience that in his observations "high tech" would probably not hold the answer for the human condition. He threatened to stay around at least to the end of this century to see. The S.M.U. community is to be congratulated and respected for bringing this major living American author to its students and staff. In my introduction to literature course it was suggested to attend so that the living experience with an inspiring thinker might be experienced first hand. Of my 41 students this semester, 6 appeared, and ovation and critical acclaim for its first concert in New Bedford's Buttonwood Park last Fourth of July.

A high point of SEMPOPS' highly successful season last year was an open-air concert at SMU that drew 4,000 people.

The April 1 concert is sponsored by the SMU Campus Center and the SMU Alumni Association. Ticket prices are $4. for adults and $2. for children, senior citizens, and SMU alumni. There are a limited number of half-price discount coupons available at the Campus Center ticket booth. In addition, there are a limited number of patron tickets for $10. which include special seating and a champagne reception with the conductor. For tickets call 999-8136.

Community Month at SMU is a program of 35 cultural and entertainment events to be presented for the public during April. Starting with the SEMPOPS concert on April 1, the events, many of them free, will include a lecture by Sir Harold Wilson, former prime minister of England, on April 5; an Open House on April 8 for the entire family with a puppet show, music, exhibits, and lectures; and a concert on April 15 by the Regional Symphonic Band, John Pandolfi conducting. The month will wind up with SMU Computer Expo '84 on April 27 and 28. The Expo will provide an opportunity for the community to learn more about the world of computers and how to use them for business, education, and entertainment. The many other Community Month events will appeal to all ages and all tastes.

SEMPOPS in 1983 was funded by grants from the cities of New Bedford and Fall River, the Music Performance Trust Fund, and the Massachusetts Arts Lottery.

Faculty Concert Series

GENE CRISAFULLI, TRUMPETER

The Faculty Concert Series of Southeastern Massachusetts University's music department will present Gene Crisafulli, trumpeter, in a recital of music for trumpet, oboe and strings on March 31st at 8 p.m. in the Recital Hall of the Group VI Building.

The program will include works by Torelli, Corelli, Avison, Marcello and Hertel.

In addition to directing the SMU Concert Band, the SMU Stage Band, and teaching trumpet, Professor Crisafulli performs with the Rhode Island Philharmonic and has performed throughout the area in concerts and recitals.

Joining Crisafulli in the concert will be Ann Danis and Cheri Markward on violins; John Gomes, viola; Ruth Trexler, cello; Glen Guittari, harpsichord; and Andrea Ridilla, oboe.

The concert, sponsored by the SMU Music Guild, is free and open to the public. Parking is available in lots 8 and 9.
